THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L., SR.

In April Spring seems to come overnight. One day the snow sifts down and the night lowers with gloomy clouds. The next morning a breath of warm air comes through the trees with the sun shining brightly. One notices the d bud have grown little pink nodules. A hyacinth pushes up to the surface. The forsythia is covered with incipient bloom. The lilac sports small grape-like buds.

Of course there have been harbingers. The dog toothed violets have been out for some time. Snow in the Mountains has bloomed, covering the patio wall with intermittent mantles of white, the aubretia have chimed in with blue and purple, and, of course, the varied forms of daffodils and jonquils have been very gay for some time.

Then one realizes that Spring has been here for quite some time. It did not come overnight. It has been steadily pushing itself to the surface despite rains, snow and frost. The dog toothed violets were the first. In fact they came right up through the thin layers of snow. So, when did Spring arrive? Well, it was probably around the first of April and the weather made little if any difference. Indeed, the star magnolia suddenly began fluttering its ragged white blossoms in the midst of a snow storm.

A couple of weks later the Japanese magnolia was showing off its large purple and white blooms that look for all the world like flocks of strange birds who have lighted on its naked branches. Then the larch buds suddenly swell and put out their tiny brushes of needles. The tulip tree is covered with little green spades that rapidly expand into leaves. A careful examination shows the holly is beginning to bloom preparatory to donning its bright red berries for Christmas.

From now until August it will be just one blooming thing after another. By the pool the orisata iris have shoved their lances through the soil and will bear their small blue and white flags in the gorgeous procession of June. The scyllas will be up and blooming early in May. The Japanese quinces, if not the earliest of blooming things, keeps right on blossoming through April, though now the shrub is covered comfortably with foliage.

The latter part of June and in July the iris in all their varied beauty will bloom. The Japanese with its flat exotic flowers, the Siberian with its dark and light blue varieties, and the magnificent array of bearded iris will raise their heads in a great symphony of color and form. Peonies will swell and burst into globes of white and red, and Oriental poppies will add their note of bright orange to the garden.

But these are for the Summer. It is the Spring blossoms that are the most welcome in this region. For the Winter is long, with snow, cold and sterility, or so it seems, ruling everywhere. It is the first warm day, or even a part of a day, that starts the buds swelling, the birds singing and the gray squirrels capering.

DON'T TEMPT FATE

"Watch and wait—don't tempt fate" is a slogan suggested by the California State Automobile Association for pedestrians on heavily traveled streets and highways.

Rene de Reamur, a French scientist, is credited with discovering the use of wood pulp as a base for paper.

S-N CHAMBER APPOINTS GROUP TO SCREEN FUND REQUESTS

NEVADA CITY: The Nevada County Centennial Committee recently appointed by George Hansen, President of the Sierra-Nevada County Chamber of Commerce and confirmed by the Nevada County Board of Supervisors as a "screening committee" for applications for State Funds from the California Centennial Commission issues a call for plans and applications by May 1st for the fiscal year 1948-49. The Committee, consisting of Elmer Stevens, Al Irby, Downey Clinch, Wes Donnewirth, W. W. Esterley, Herbert Nile, Earl Covey and George Hallock, is anxious to get things under way and draw up a program for submission to the Board of Supervisors by May 1st. Chairman Stevens wishes to make it very clear that this committe has not been relegated to project plans for the centennial but it sits as a "go-between"—the local organizations, the County of Nevada and the State of California in matters concerning funds from the state. The County of Nevada if it wishes, can ear-mark county funds for the Centennial Years 1948-49-50. These funds can be matched dollar for dollar provided they are allocated to the proper projects. "Here is where the 'screening committee' comes in," states Chairman Stevens.

"Of course, we realize that '49 and '50 are the big years for Nevada County, but surely Nevada County wants to get underway this year. Already El Dorado County has 30 applications in the State Commission office. $2,000,000 has been allocated by the State Legislature, and if Nevada County doesn't get ıer share, we shall have only ourselves to blame," added the County Chairman. Organizations are urged to get under way and make known their plans to the committee. Fred Brady, Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce, is secretary for the Committee and will accept applications.

Officers and members of the Auburn, Colfax, Downieville, Nevada City, and Grass Valley clubs attended.

LEGION CELEBRATES WITH OPEN HOUSE

GRASS VALLEY: The Hague-Thomas-Hegarty Post of the American Legion on Saturday celebrated the many improvements in the Veterans Memorial Building by holding open house.

Among the improvements are a new dining room and kitchen in the basement, and bowling alleys. Paul I. Jenks was low bidder on the contract. The veterans have asked citizens of all walks of life to come tonight and admire the gleaming chromium furniture of kitchen and dining room, the beautiful bowling alleys, and the many changes made on the first floor.

The doors of the building will be open tonight at 5:30 o'clock. There will be an official guide service for taking groups of visitors through it. The program with music, dancing, luncheon and other features will begin at 7 P. M.

COMMISSION ASKS FOR 2 DIRECTORS FOR SUMMER PLAY

GRASS VALLEY: The Grass Valley Recreation Commission finds that high school students expect to work during the day time in vacation, and would like to be provided with Friday and Saturday night dancing, swimming and bowling.

Grammar school students want their day programs to include softball, basketball, tennis, handicrafts, basket weaving, leather and plastic work.

The commission, due to the variance in the two groups, will ask the city council to provide two recreational directors for the summer.

THE - Diary of a 49'er

FROM THE BOOK EDITED BY C. L. CANFIELD

MAY 2, 1852.—Dunn and his partners put in the week on our Rock Creek claims and are well satisfied with the returns. They took in MacCalkins and Barker on the lay and six of them tackled it. It doesn't make any difference to us how many are interested, as we get twenty per cent of what comes out. They cleaned up yesterday afternoon and had fifty-one ounces. That will give us two hundred dollars for our rake off and they are averaging about an ounce apiece per day. Dunn has an idea that he can do still better by increasing the size of the boxes. They are now using ten by twelve-inch bottoms and ten inch sides. He has ordered at the mill two and a half feet bottoms and eighteen-inch sides of two inches thickness, and will set these in the bed of the creek, anchoring them down permanently so that flood water will not carry them away. He says he is convinced that if he can hold them down he can catch most of the gold in the dirt that is carried down when the water is high and then clean up the creek at low water. I do not see any reason why it should not work. Anyway, the experiment will cost us nothing.

Chinamen are getting to be altogether too plentiful in the country. Six months ago it was seldom one was seen, but lately gangs of them have been coming in from below. There is a big camp of them down on Deer Creek, below Newtown, and we found a lot of them getting ready to work on the bars of the Yuba

THE STORY OF SWEETLAND

by Ada Perry Landsburg

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ada Perry Landsburg was born in the little town of Sweetland, January 30, 1859. She was the daughter of John and Lydia Perry, and spent many years there as well as in Relief Hill, North Bloomfield and Nevada City.

She and her husband moved to Kuna, Idaho, to be near her daughter Linda. Some years after her husband passed away, she had the misfortune to fall, and she has been bed-ridden for more than ten years.

When we read the papers these days, we wonder if some of the parents of today, would not be glad if their children could have had readers like these in their early childhood.

It certainly must have had an influence for good on childish minds to hear some little youngster, on Friday afternoon recite the following lines:

"I'll never smoke tobacco,
No, it is a filthy weed
I'll never put it in my mouth,
said little Robert Reed."

Or hear some of the more daring little urchins recite,
Tobacco is a filthy weed,
From the devil sprang the seed;
Smoke tobacco burns your clothes,
Makes a chimney of your nose."

At a later date, we think about 1870, our Readers were changed for a series of six beginning with the 1st and ending with the sixth.

They too, were wonderful readers, McGuffeys. We still see them advertised and spoken of as very fine, but for molding the minds and shaping the lives of the very young, we think the Wilson's were better, though McGuffey's were good.

The spelling books used, First Townsend's Speller later Wilson's.

Geography, Cornell's, later Monterth's.

History, Quankenbo's, later Swinton's Condensed History.

Grammar, Green's, later Brown's.

Physiology, have forgotten the author.

Other subjects taught were Mental Arithmetic, written arithmetic, Algebra, (two classes) lower and advanced, Botony, Zoology, Word Analysis, writing (copy books) Spencerian system, and Bookeeping.

Teachers in the new school building were Adam Zellars, Miss Clark, Miss Culbertson, Neil McNeil Kennedy from 1872 to 1877.

To the last named teacher of the Sweetland School the older scholars owed a debt of gratitude for the lessons we had in Botany, Zoology, Bookeeping, French, Latin and Greek, as he was not obliged to teach them. He was with us three years, and in 1876 married one of his Greek scholars, Anna Quinn. In 1878 he taught at N. San Juan and later at Nevada City School for several years; part of the time as Superintendent of the school. His wife was also a teacher in the school.

It may be asked by some, especially by teachers of today, how as many classes could be taught in a one-room school of 80 scholars, and some may doubt it, but the only help the teachers had was that from some of the older girls, who took the A. B. C. class and first and second reading classes into the ante-rooms and heard them read. Then they were sent out to play, but called in at recess time, to be reviewed in their lessons by the teacher, so that they were not neglected. Many studies alternated, some heard twice, some three times a week.

So much work kept the scholars busy. The school was never a noisy school, as whispering was strictly forbidden, or communication of any kind. Every scholar was expected, (and placed on his honor), to give a strict account of his disobedience to the laws of the school, each evening just before school closed, when the roll was called. It is also wonderful how much can be accomplished when the classes recite orally, and we believe is of much advantage to the scholar, as well as the teacher. Sitting in our seats, and hearing a class recite, which we have left behind us, if we chance to be listening, is like a review of our past work, or if a class is reciting which is ahead of us, in a measure prepares us for what will be our lessons later on. During our own recitations, the scholar who has not his or her lesson well prepared, has the advantage of hearing his better prepared classmates recite, goes to his seat, better understanding the lesson than when the class was called to recite.

We do not know if the plan followed then would work today, but it worked then. The following named scholars of Sweetland School were granted certificates to teach, by the Nevada City Board of Education, not having the advantage of a finishing school though all did not teach.

Laura Mobley, Charles Brown, Augusta Brown, Emma Barnum, Mary Egan, Anna Slack, Anna Quinn, and (the writer), also Kate Brown. Hannah and Sarah Davis also were granted certificates but they had the advantage of a term at Mills Seminary.

School at Sweetland continued many years after the years 1878, but gradually grew smaller, and smaller, and at last ceased altogether, and the old town became a ghost town in deed and in truth.

Fishing

HISCOX PREDICTS POOR RESULTS ON MAY 1ST., OPENING DAY

NEVADA CITY: Due to high water, Earl Hiscox, game warden declares, fishing will be poor on opening day, which this year is May 1st. throughout the state.

"All the mountain country, including Bowman's Dam area," said Hiscox, "will be closed on account of snow, blocked roads, and will be too much frozen for fishing even if the fishermen could get to them.

"I do not anticipate anyone getting many fish and those who do bring in trout will use bait, salmon eggs or worms. Fly fishing probably will not be good until sometime in June or, maybe July.

"The best fishing will be in the Bear, and the Forks of the Yuba River, South, Middle and North Yuba, between the 2000 and 3000 foot altitudes. These and their tributaries, Dry Creek, Rock Creek, Deer Creek, Oregon Creek, and a dozen other smaller streams will prove the best fishing for opening day, but it is doubtful whether many anglers will bring in limits of 15 trout."

The game warden spoke of the Narrows Dam in the Yuba. which closed off the Yuba River's three forks to steelhead that formally swarmed up in their season. "The dam is too high," he said, "to make a fish ladder economically possible.

"One thing I think fishermen should realize, is that this year, with the opening of the trout season on May 1st, the season for bass and all varieties of sunfish or perch also opens on the same day. That has a good deal of bearing on fishing in Bullard's Bar and the lower lakes."

NATIONAL THEFT SOLVED BY SOLARO

NEVADA CITY: Max Solaro, Nevada City chief of police, reported yesterday that he thinks he has solved the robbery of the National Hotel Monday morning and the Nevada City Elks Club Sunday, in the apprehension of two boys 15 and 16 years of age, who admitted the two offenses.

The Elks Club was entered but so far as could be ascertained nothing was taken. The National Hotel lost $42 in cash. The two were brought before Justice of the Peace George Gildersleeve yesterday and will appear in the juvenile court for further hearing. One of the youths is on probation for stealing Frank Stewart's jeep some months ago. Stewart is a deliveryman for parcel post of the local post office, and proprietor of Stewart's Hat Shop.

NEVADA CITY: Playing at the Broadway Theater here Sunday, Moonday and Tuesday is the famous crime thriller, "I Walk Alone", starring Burt Lancaster.

FRANKIE MADISON (Burt Lancaster) comes back to New York after serving 14 years in prison for a prohibition era shooting scrape in which he covered up for his partner, Noll Turner (Kirk Douglas). He goes to the swanky Regent Club which has replaced their old speakeasy to take over his half of the business, but finds that Noll has tricked him out of his interest.

Kay Lawrence (Lizabeth Scott), the club's lovely chanteuse, has been in love with Noll, but sides with Frankie against the scheming Turner, who is discarding her for rich Mrs. Alexis Richardson (Kristine Miller). Frankie recruits a small mob and moves into the Regent to take possession by force, but is balked by the complicated legal and corporate setup under which the club is held and which was devised by Dave (Wendell Corey), the bookkeeper and his old-time pal. To discourage him further, the thwarted Frankie is brutally beaten up on the orders of Knoll.

Then, fearful that Dave will tell all to Frankie, Noll has him murdered and pins suspicion on Frankie. With Kay by his side, Frankie eludes the pursuing police and finally corners Knoll, breaking him down and getting a written confession. The desperate man tries to shoot his way out of his predicament, but is killed by police. And now Frankie and Kay, their exciting and dangerous night over, face the new day together.

During the same period, civilian incomes for the entire state increased 188.5 per cent, while in the mountain area, the increase was 107.4 per cent.

Total civilian income of these counties—Nevada, Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, El Dorado, Lassen, Mariposa, Modoc, Mono, Placer, Plumas, Sierra, Siskiyou, Trinity and Tuolumne—was 105,928,000 in 1940; $200,438,000 in 1946, and $219,675,000 in 1947, according to the State Chamber of Commerce.

Historical Notes, 1855

By H. P. DAVIS

The NEVADA DEMOCRAT in its issue of January 3, 1855, in reviewing the progress made during the previous year, called attention to the steadily increasing population, the substitution of substantial residences and business houses for the ramshackle "old shells" of the early days, and prophesied that within a year the value of the brick building, then estimated at $92,000 would be quadrupled.

Among other interesting data presented in this article was, as of January 1, 1855, the following:

Number of families resident in the city limits, 156; total number of occupied houses 907; Churches 5; hotels and boarding houses 24; mercantile houses 98; banking houses 4; retail liquor houses 73; jewelers 2, and drug stores 3. The professions were represented by 18 attorneys at law, 15 practicing physicians and 3 dentists.

"The marriageable young ladies", said this scribe apparently without any unworthy implication, "have increased to double the (size and) number as published in the GOLDEN ERA some six months ago, and there is still room for more."

SCOTT'S FLAT DAM CONTRACT ENDS ON MAY 14TH

GRASS VALLEY: The Nevada Irrigation District will terminate its contract with the Charles Brown & Company, contractors in erecting Scott's Flat Dam, according to an agreement, on May 14th.

There will remain some construction work, after that date, but the NID board has agreed to let the work lie until summer, when the board will undertake its completion under a supplementary agreement with the company. The construction work remaining will not interfere with the use of the dam.

Forest Varney, manager of the irrigation district stated that there are now approximately 17,000 acre feet of water behind the dam. The board contemplates landscaping the perimeter of the dam, building roads and choosing locations suitable for camp sites.

The Grass Valley Sportsmen's Club has queried the board regarding the possibility of obtaining a campsite. The application was taken under advisement.

River. Pard and I chased a dozen off our river claims and warned them that we would shoot them if we found them there again. We called a miners' meeting and adopted a miners' law that they should not be allowed to take up or hold ground for themselves unless purchased from a white owner. Some were for driving them out of the country entirely, but the majority thought it would be a good thing to sell them claims, as it was an easy way to make money. Pard says it is a great mistake to let them get any sort of a foothold; but as we are going to quit mining, our objections were not as strong as they might have been. I understand that most of the camps have adopted the same sort of law. They are not looked upon as human beings and have no rights that a white man is bound to respect, except in protecting them in their titles to ground that they have regularly bought under agreed conditions. Their big camp on Deer Creek was raided a couple of weeks ago, it is said, by a gang of Mexicans, two of them were killed and ths remainder scattered all over the country. Reports say that the Greasers got away with over thirty thousand dollars. The Chinamen appealed for protection, but nobody paid any attention to them. There were over fifty living in the camp and they ought to have been able to protect themselves; but they seem to be great cowards and will not fight under any circumstances.

Greyhound Lines Sued in Highway 40 Auto Wreck

NEVADA CITY: The Pacific Motor Insurance Corporation yesterday filed suit against the Pacific Greyhound Lines to recover $1,737.25, alleged due as the result of the destruction of a 1947 Pontiac December 17th, 1947, in collision with a Greyhound bus driven by Tony S. Cabral on Highway 40 west of Truckee.

The complaint alleges the Pontiac had to be sold for junk after the collision and that the damages asked is the difference between the price received after the car was wrecked and its value before the accident. The insurance company reimbursed the owner for his loss and now sues the bus line.

SAVE CLUTCH LINING

PLENTY OF WATER FOR DOMESTIC USE, SURVEY SHOWS

GRASS VALLEY: Percy Bosanko, hydrographer for the Nevada Irrigation District, and Paul Ukena, another employe, announced as a result of a recent snow survey, that there will be plenty of water this summer for domestic uses, though it is possible that water for power purposes may be somewhat less than usual.

The trip was made entirely by skis, the two men staying in cabin shelters erected some years ago by the district. In one shelter they stayed four days due to a snow storm.

Starting from Emigrant Gap the two men ranged over the route which took them to Bowman's Lake, Lake Fouchérie, French Lake, English Mountain, Jackson Meadows, Webber Lake and several other points. The snow ranged in depth from 24 to 110 inches, but the water content, Bosanko said, was comparatively low, ranging from 25 to 30 percent compared with last year's survey which ranged from 40 to 45 percent.

DON'T DAYDREAM

Day dreaming in traffic, whether walking or driving, can quickly become a nightmare of tragedy, says the California State Automobile Association. Keep alert—don't get hurt.

Here's why we say WOMEN CAN GO PLACES IN THIS BUSINESS

1. This is a story of a typical Pacific Telephone "career girl." She started as an operator back in the thirties...a good job then, even better now. Today most new operators just out of high school average better than $35 a week when they start handling calls and many experienced operators earn $50 a week.

2. She was promoted to supervisor after a few years. Training new girls was an important part of the job...for Pacific Telephone was growing. She enjoyed vacations every year...with pay, of course. And she joined in many local telephone activities. Found telephone people friendly and sociable ...on or off the job.

3. She's a chief operator now supervising 70 women...her responsibilities and experience help determine her salary of $4,500 a year. Many "chiefs" earn more. Two-thirds of our people are women—hundreds have management jobs—five are assistant vice-presidents. Yes, women can go places in this business.

4. Telephone jobs must be good jobs to attract the capable people needed to furnish service. Good pay, steady work and an employee benefit plan give a strong sense of security. Comfortable surroundings, vacations and friendly fellow workers help make work pleasant.
